Foreword

We believe in Indiana Central College, her progress and her ideals; we believe in her President and Trustees, in her Faculty and students. We believe in The ORACLE as a means of reflecting each phase of college life and preserving in the minds of its readers pleasant memories.

Dedication

In gratitude to those hundreds in the Women's Auxiliary who, through their devotion to our college, gave so unselfishly to a fund for the erection of the first girls' dormitory on our campus, The ORACLE of 1924 is lovingly dedicated to the one who served as their president, Mrs. H. H. Fout.

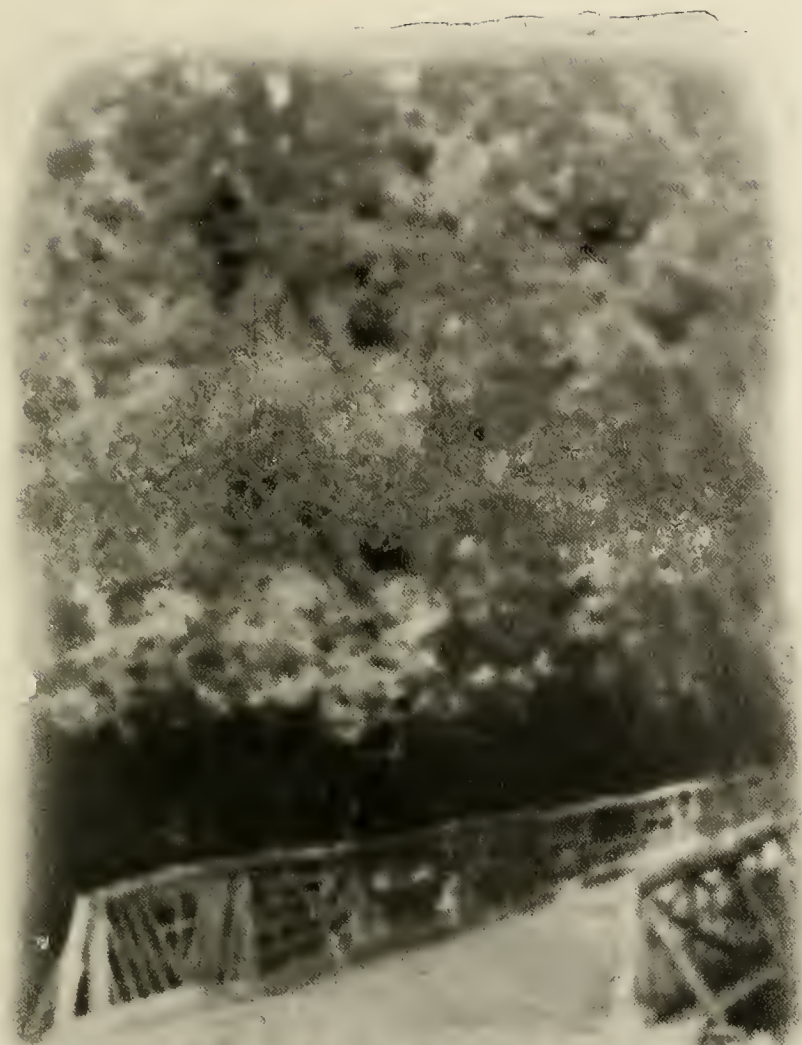

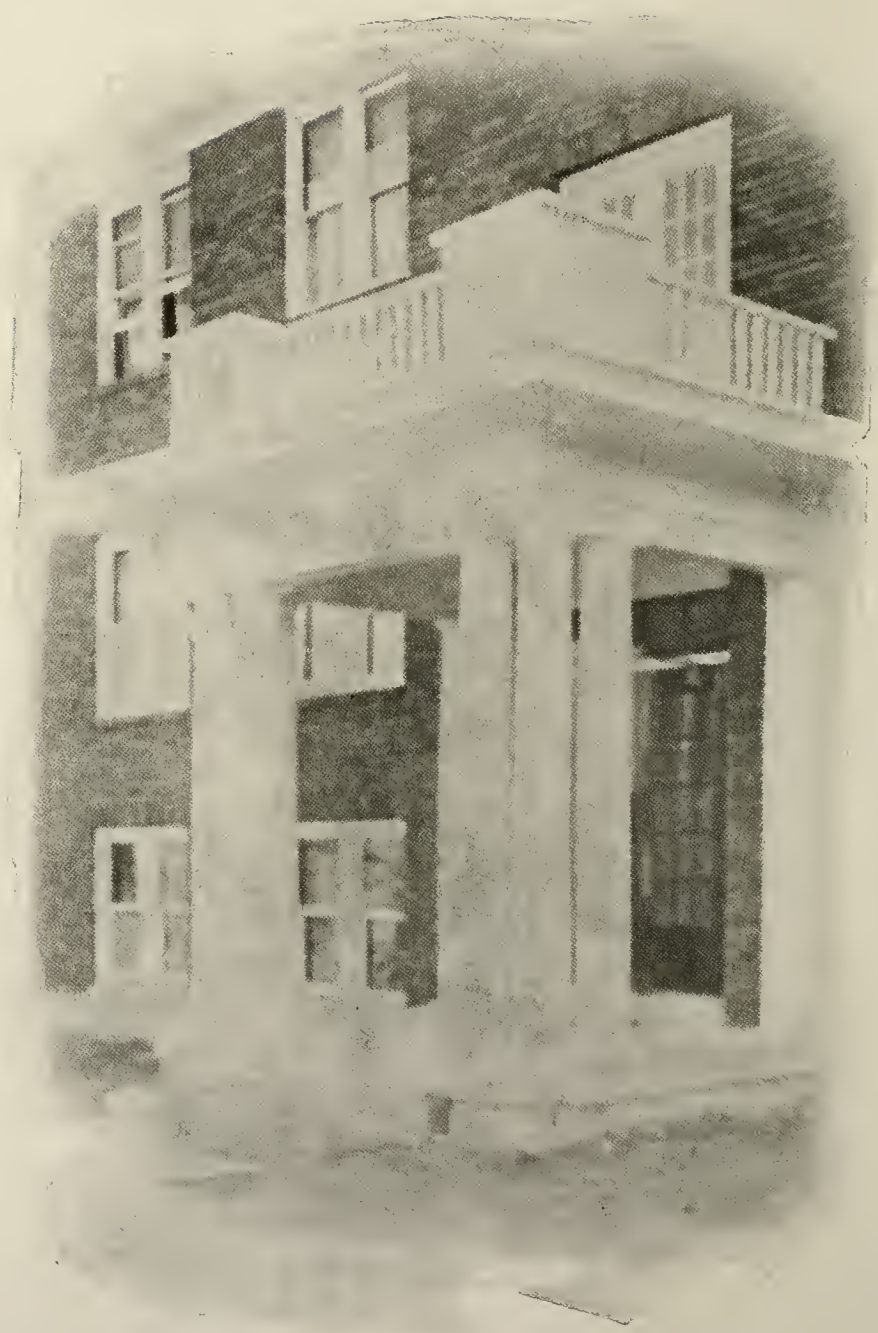

Believing that actual photographs, taken on our campus, will portray in the most emphatic manner our buildings, our students and their activities, the Editorial Staff has undertaken to emphasize the scenic section of The 1924 ORACLE.

OUR COLLEGE

Indiana Central College was founded October, 1902, by the United Brethren Conference of Indiana and was opened to students September 26, 1905, under the presidency of Dr. J. T. Roberts.

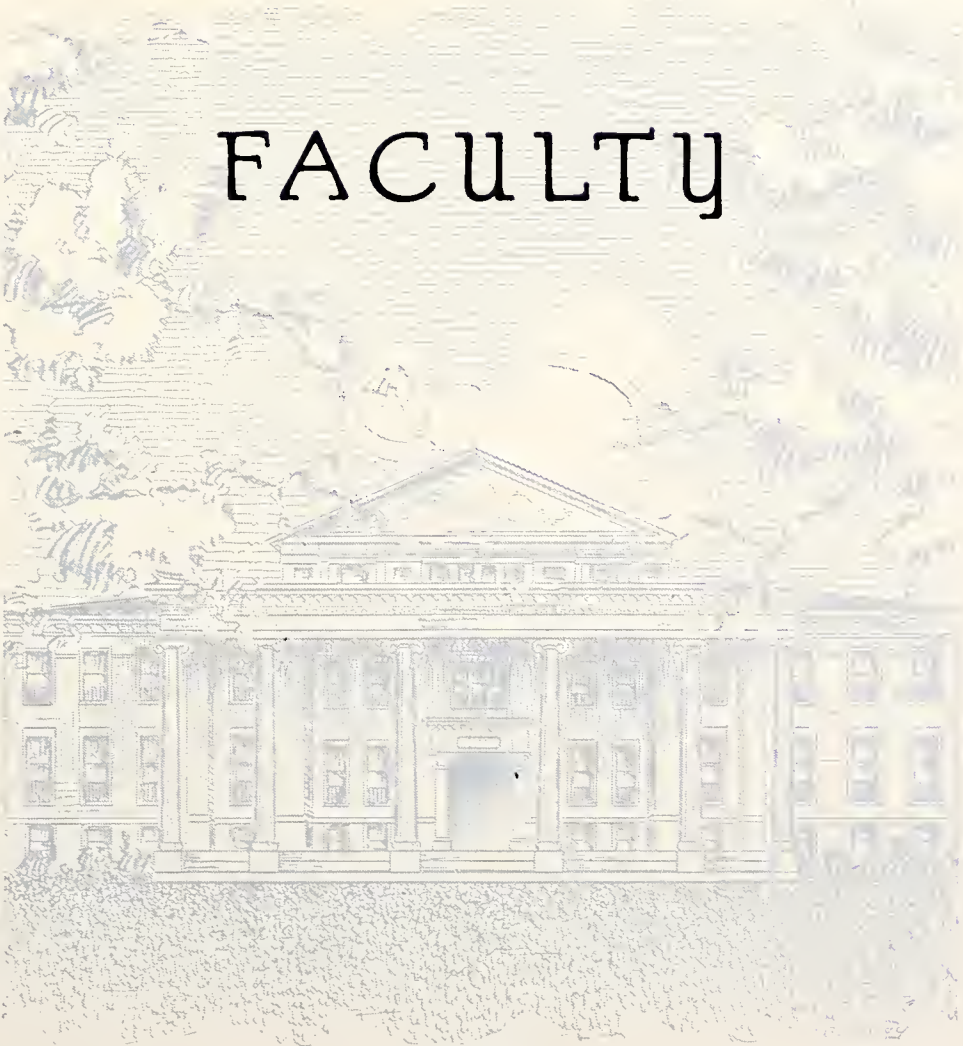

Dr. L. D. Bonebrake became president in 1909. Too much cannot be said of the splendid work of these two men. Dr. Bonebrake was succeeded in 1915 by I. J. Good, who had been business manager of the college since 1913. President Good graduated from I. C. C. in 1908. He has always felt the utmost interest in the institution both from the student's viewpoint and later from that of the administration.

This may in part account for the wonderful success and growth of Indiana Central during the nine years in which the college has been under his administration.

The dedication of Women's Residence Hall in October, 1921; the erection of the gymnasium soon after; the dedication of Dailey and Men's Halls in 1922 and 1923, have all been lasting landmarks and are chiefly due to the ability of the president.

The present faculty has increased accordingly with the growth of the school until at present it numbers twenty professors besides a corps of fourteen assistants. With the increase of enthusiasm in the 90,000 members of our constituency, has come a similar increase in the student body. The twenty-six young men, and women, whom Indiana Central College is so proudly sending out this year into the world's work, carry with them the high ideals of the school and the United Brethren Church. To this training our literary societies, musical organization and athletic associations as well as our religious activities have contributed. As our numbers have increased during these years the ideals of Indiana Central College have not been lowered but the fine aspirations for which she was founded are still retained.

I. C. C.'S PRAISE

Oh! Come, let's sing I. C. C.'s praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise:
While our hearts, rebounding, thrill
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll:
Time and change will sure decree
How firm thy friendship—I. C. C.

Though age may dim our mem'ry's store,
We'll think of happy days of yore,
Frank to friend or foe we'll be,
As sturdy sons of I. C. C.
If on seas of care we roll,
Neath blackened sky, o'er barren shoal,
Thoughts of thee bid darkness flee,
Dear Alma Mater—I. C. C.

On the never-to-be-forgotten day of September the tenth, 1922, the Freshmen entered Indiana Central College, with great joy, and with many resolutions to study diligently.

As they progressed sufficiently they were allowed to organize and to adopt a constitution. The following were chosen to guide them in their first adventure: President, Paul Chalfant; Vice-President, Iona Heironimus; Secretary and Treasurer, Laura Cole; Advisor, John W. George.

When the ever-puzzling question of finance had been solved, it was deemed necessary to have a party, so a "Kid" party held in the Gymnasium furnished the necessary diversion.

The dawning of another year came with its fulfillment of a "Midsummer Night's Dream" as they advanced to the Sophomore row.

After a summer of rest and a resumption of their duties, in greater Sophomore capacity the following officers were chosen: President, Paul Chalfant; Vice-President, Iona Heironimus; Secretary and Treasurer, Homer Roberts.

DIARY OF AN UNSETTLED SOPHOMORE.

Dec. 14.—Gee! This is Friday night and date night. I saw the best looking fellow today. But he's a Freshman and I'm a Sophomore.

Dec. 15.—I think that mail man is the silliest thing. I asked him today if I'd got a letter and he said to me, "Land of Goshen! How should I know?" in the funniest way. How could I know unless I asked?

Dec. 16.—I guess I'm homesick today, but I'd never tell a Freshman. I surely did think mother would send me a cake or something. I'm tired of boiled potatoes. And Jerry didn't write either. Oh! I wish I'd never come!

Dec. 17.—This is sure one love of a day. I got the sweetest letter from Jerry. Just think, I'll see him in one—two—three—four days. I wonder what he'll get me for Christmas.

Dec. 18.—Received the loveliest box of home made candy today. I could just die eating fudge. Jerry likes fudge, too.

Dec. 19.—Mildred Barnhart said in class today that of all songs she knew, she preferred "Lead, Kindly Light." I believe mother would like Mildred, and I'm quite sure Jerry would.

Dec. 20.—Goin' home tomorrow! I haven't seen the girls since September and I hope they'll be well impressed with my bobbed hair. I'll wear my new hat and coat to the show tomorrow night. The girls say I look grand in it.

FRESHMEN

The first few days of school proved an interesting adventure for the class of '27, while the new students were becoming acquainted with the campus, which was just settling into tranquility, after the departure of the Normal School students.

The eager Freshmen elected Lynn Turner to be their president, with Marion Smith as vice-president, Richard Potter as secretary, Edith Stahl as treasurer, and Professor George as class sponsor.

The Freshmen are represented on the affirmative debating team by Peyton, and on the negative team by Frye, as alternate, while two of our number, Catt and Albright, are members of the varsity basketball team. In all pursuits, organizations, and college activities we have tried to do our share, although we have made the ordinary and proverbial Freshmen mistakes, which have been promptly rectified, as far as possible.

THE BOOK OF FROSHERIA

In the seventh month, in the first year of the class of '27, came the word of the Editor unto Frosheria, son of Academia, saying; "Write herein, that which is to come."

Then to my mind came a recent message given me by the spirit of prophecy: "I have known you, Oh, Freshmen," saith the spirit. "I have perceived that which is good, and that which is bad. Great are thy works, and feared art thou by thine enemies. High upon the hills are thy habitations, far upon the seas are thy emissaries, mighty art thou in the halls of wisdom. Thou hast been only a little while, yet thy sons and thy daughters fill the college.

"Say this thing unto thy people, thou Freshman, that out of them shall arise the great of the earth, like the sands for multitude, and as the stars for shining. Thou shalt become known afar off; Seniors shall I make thee for the might of thy brains and the strength of thy pens. Nevertheless there will be falterers among you; not one of these, say I, shall reach the land. Persevere unto the end, ye of strong heart; be of good courage, and verily I shall bring it to pass.

"There may be great men among you. It is whispered in the secret places. It is borne on the wings of the wind. In distant courts, amidst the thunder of loud sayings and wickedness in the high places, shall the voice of Lester Peyton be heard, for his word is just, and his dealings are equitable. Likewise, when the women gather together in the cities, when the rulers of the earth shall be chosen by the daughters of colleges, then shall arise Vera Arbogast and say, 'Choose ye this man', and ye will choose him.

"In that day also shall Indiana Central vanquish Notre Dame, with clamor and shouting shall the deed be done, and amidst the feast thereafter will men make speeches saying, 'All this we owe to Otto Albright. It is he who has coached this people, bow the knee to him, Oh, Alumnae.'

"No people will I spare for thy sake," sayeth the spirit, "therefore comfort ye, my Freshmen, go forth and conquer the earth. Be of good cheer, for lo! have I not said these things which are to come? Thy name shall be great in the annals of men."

The word of the editor in the seventh month of the year of the class of '27 which he spake unto Frosheria is accomplished.

Indiana Central Academy provides a place for the young people of the community and for those of the constituency who desire an education, which they cannot conveniently secure elsewhere.

It has been due largely to the untiring efforts of the Principal, Mrs. M. J. Swindler, that the Academy has been the progressive unit that it has during the last few years.

From year to year Senior classes have gone from the Academy into the College and into various kinds of employment with a determination to succeed in life. The Senior class of '24 is no exception. Twelve enthusiastic students leave the Academic ranks this year, well prepared to begin their four years of College work.

Interest has been increased this year by the organization of a chorus and by participation in athletics. The academy girls, especially, have shown an interest in basketball and in hiking. Most of the students are members of Y. M. C. A. or the Girl Reserves. Several student pastors are also called from these ranks.

Academy members, indeed, realized that to open the door of success requires "push." If they continue in their persistent efforts and enthusiastic activities during their college careers, we need have no fear for the future.

MUSIC STUDIO

Dear reader, have you ever been startled by strains of celestial music as you sat in your classroom, drowsily nodding?

Have you ever heard, as you crossed the campus, violins, voices and pianos, the notes mingled harmoniously or otherwise?

Have you attended any of the numerous recitals?

Have you heard the college glee clubs and choir?

Have you seen and heard our peppy band?

In short, have you realized just how much the Music Department means to I. C. C?

Mrs. Lois Browne Dorsett, Miss Florence Fritch, Professor Glenn Blackburn and Mr. Lynn Arbogast have ably instructed in music, during the year. Under Mrs. Dorsett's leadership, two Glee Clubs and an Academy Chorus were organized, while the college orchestra and band were directed by Miss Fritch, and Professor Blackburn. Of the recitals during the year, one was given by Mrs. Dorsett, assisted by Prof. Nathan Davis. The others were joint recitals of the music and public speaking departments.

The Indiana Central College Band has a prominent place in the music life of the college.

The organization plays at basketball games, debates and other functions where the enthusiasm of the students is demonstrated. It also presents in its recitals, numbers which are helpful and entertaining, both to its members and to its audience.

The department of Public Speaking, under the efficient direction of Professor Fred Elmer Marshall, offers class work and individual instruction in Public Speaking, Oratory and Expression. The department is rapidly growing. No matter what kind of public work the student is pursuing, the Public Speaking department gives him practical training and an opportunity to develop his powers of expression. During each term the department gives a public recital, which is highly entertaining and profitable, both to the college and to the department.

Professor Marshall has had wide experience in public work. He is noted over Indiana and Illinois for his literary programs presented to educational institutions.

Many audiences have received with pleasure his presentations of "Macbeth," "The Merchant of Venice," "Julius Caesar," and "Hamlet." Some of his other literary selections are, "The Christmas Carol," "An Hour with James Whitcomb Riley," and "An Evening of Good Cheer in Story and Song."

BASKETBALL

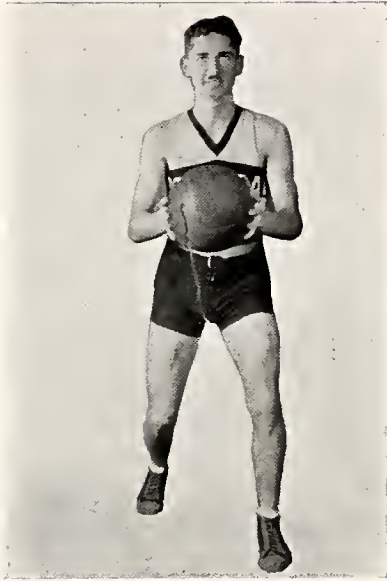

The season of 1924 proved to be the most successful season for the Cardinal and Gray. At the beginning of the fall term basketball prospects were brightened by the return of five of the veterans and the entrance of Albright into the sport circle. During the season games were played with some of the best teams in the state, and against only two of these did Central fail to score a victory. One of the most encouraging features of the season was the splendid way in which the team finished its schedule. The five consecutive victories which ended the season indicated its ability. Since none of the men are lost through graduation, next year's season promises to be exceptionally good.

OTTO ALBRIGHT

Forward

Playing his first year of competition for I. C. C., Albright has made a name for himself. He is a high point man, having made a grand total of one hundred and forty-eight points. He has several times made possible a "winner" by playing a whirlwind game. He has two more seasons in which to fight for the cardinal and gray.

CAPTAIN HARRY C. GOOD

Guard

Playing his third consecutive year of basket ball, Good made a splendid leader for the Cardinal and Gray. He played a sterling defensive game and was one of the strongest cogs in Central's machine. Light, swift, and agile, he was a constant obstacle to opposing forwards, and was largely responsible for the lowness of the opponents' score. We expect much from him next year.

RALPH LIGHT

Center

Light is undoubtedly the best center among our basketball men. He covered his man on defense and played a fine game in making counters. Ralph is one of those unusual players who comes through with the "stuff" when it is needed. From all indications he bids fair to be one of the most valuable men on the whole squad for the next two years.

EDGAR BRIGHT

Forward

"Eddie" in his second year of athletic attainments for Central has displayed the best brand of basketball of his two years of college competition. His ability in speed and his exceptionally good floor work has ever been a pleasure to those who have seen him in action. He makes every move count and has thus been able to build up a record of fifty field goals in the fourteen games played.

OTHNIEL CATT

Guard

Although not built for speed, Catt has made a record in the annals of Central's athletics. He has developed his ability to "stick" a man and to intercept passes with the greatest perfection. He has three more seasons in which to develop into a star defensive player.

EDWARD PENCE

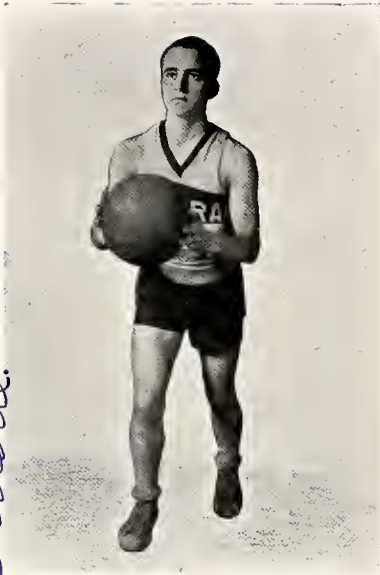

Forward

We are proud to say that "Eddie" is worth more than his name implies. Although the midget of the team, he has demonstrated his ability by rolling up a large number of points. With two seasons before him, "Eddie" will without doubt be a valuable asset to our future team.

"Freddie."*

FRED ARMENTROUT

Forward

When given a chance to display his ability, "Freddie" plays a great game. He is still eligible for two more years of competition. Although failing in his first year to play in a sufficient number of games to receive letter recognition, he has been able this year to compete in the required number and is a proud possessor of the "C."

PAUL G. SNIVELY

Manager

No little credit for the success of our athletic season is due to the untiring efforts of the manager. We are very sorry to say that due to his extreme modesty, his great speed and his weak heart, we were unable to obtain a photograph of him. But take it from us he has a good sense of humor; is a good fellow with the boys and is a staunch supporter of athletics at Indiana Central.

LLOYD SACKMIRE

Guard

Having the natural build of a guard and thus being suited for a defensive position, "Sack" is a tower of strength on the court. Due to his commendable speed and his fighting spirit the opposing teams have been held to small scores.

VARSITY AND "SCRUBS"

Standing (left to right): George, coach; Mendenhall, Dragoo, Rapp, Arbogast, Peyton, Albright, Todd, Good, captain; Adams, Catt, France, Montgomery, Vance, Snively, manager.

THE SCRUBS

At the beginning of the season, forty-seven men answered the call for basketball, and from this number, Coach George was able to develop a second team of no mean ability. Due to the fact that the Varsity was filling an unusually heavy schedule for this year, a regular schedule was not arranged for the scrubs. They played two games, however, the first with the "Silent Hoosiers" and the second with the University Heights "Independents." Both were victories for the second team.

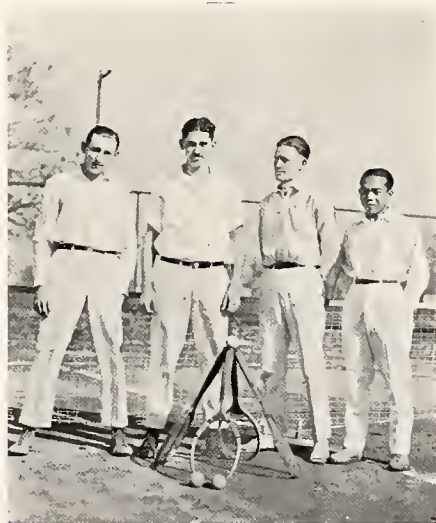

The men who composed the team were: France and Vance, forwards; Turner and Todd, centers; Arbogast and Peyton, guards. Ten men received numerals at the end of the season. Among others who deserve mention for their efforts in helping to perfect the first team are: Karnes, Adams, Rapp, Dragoo, Montgomery, Butler, Ragains and Cummins. Too much credit cannot be given them for their part in helping make the basketball season a success. More and more attention is being given to perfecting the second string men at Indiana Central College as it is realized that these men will eventually make a strong bid for a Varsity proposition. Next year it is planned to have a strong schedule for the second team which ought to increase the interest in basketball at Indiana Central.

Football is now to become a regular part of Indiana Central's athletic program. In the annual meeting of the Indiana Intercollegiate Conference held at the Claypool Hotel, Indianapolis, a petition for the entrance of Indiana Central College was unanimously received. An amendment was made to the constitution whereby Freshmen might be permitted to play during the ensuing year. This will be very beneficial to I. C. C.

Early in the fall equipment was bought and the remainder of the season was spent in drilling the squad in the rudiments and the essentials of the game. The first football game played in the I. C. C. uniform was between the Freshmen and the Sophomores on Oct. 25, 1923. The teams were closely matched and prophecies as to the outcome of the game were many and varied. The Freshmen started the game with so much vim and pep that their opponents were paralyzed. The Freshmen held their ground and the Sophomores were forced to lighten their defense. Both teams entered into the spirit of the game and really fought. The Freshmen by their superior weight were finally victorious with a score of 6 to 0.

Many blunders were made during the season, but considering the fact that most of the men were unacquainted with the game, there was some exceptionally good playing. At the end of the season C. W. Butler, of the Junior class, was elected captain for the ensuing year. In preparation for the season next fall Coach George has already begun practice in football this spring. Up to date five games have been scheduled and with two more, Indiana Central will have a good beginning for football.

BASEBALL

Baseball is rapidly gaining a place at Indiana Central and we are looking forward to success in our intercollegiate games. Last year two games were played with Central Normal at Danville. The latter was victorious in both, although our team put up a good fight. Coach George expects to play six games this spring. Thus far, two games have been scheduled with Central Normal and two with N. A. G. U. Let's back our team and help them win!

TENNIS

Tennis is a very popular sport at Indiana Central. In fact, two more courts are soon to be made to meet the demand of the tennis enthusiasts. In the tournament held last spring the four making the best showing were Fisher, Cummins, Saulo and Good.

TRACK

As yet, track has not developed to any great extent, but much interest has been aroused along this line. In the interclass track meet held last spring Carl Mendenhall and Harry Good tied for the position of high point man.

Because of the added increase in the student body, a general feeling was current at the beginning of the school year, that two new literary societies should be added.

As all recognized the good qualities of such societies, the training in parliamentary drill, proper decorum and literary practices, the girls readily responded when President Good extended the opportunity of becoming charter members.

Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A.

"Standards of business ethics are higher in this country today than ever before," declared Bishop Fout at the installation services of the 1924 cabinet officers. "A man would be imprisoned today for using business methods which would not have been considered questionable thirty years ago, and I believe the time is not far distant when a man's reward in money, as well as in social esteem, will be wholly proportional to the service which he renders to his fellows."

It is the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of Indiana Central College to inculcate in the hearts and to instill into the souls of young college men and women such principles as these, then in order to govern them throughout life, when they are, as they are destined to become, the leaders of thought and the business of the world.

The Associations seek to touch the lives of the men and women on the campus and to bring them together as a unified body.

Social fellowship is promoted through "Stag" socials in the Y. M. C. A.; "teas" in the Y. W. C. A. and various mixed socials. These organizations have taken also the responsibility during the year of giving receptions for the debating and athletic teams who have been guests at the college.

The regular weekly meetings afford religious as well as social development. Discussion groups led by students and outside speakers are valuable as well as instructive and interesting. The entire student body profits by speakers which the "Y" brings to our campus. This year men such as Dean Coulter, of Purdue University, and Dr. A. W. Taylor, National Secretary of the Board of Social Welfare of the Church of the Disciples, were secured.

The physical needs of the students are looked after by various hiking parties. The Y. W. C. A. this year has given letters for hiking and participation in games and regular physical exercises.

The Y. M. C. A. has a "Work Committee" which seeks to find outside employment for those students desiring it. It has further shown interest in social welfare work by sending out "Hi-Y" workers and speakers at industrial meetings.

The Associations have provided in their budgets for a joint scholarship for foreign students who are planning to go back to their native countries for missionary work.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. of our College are recognized among the best organizations of the state. Last year the Y. M. C. A. entertained the State Officers' Training Conference in their annual meeting. This year the Y. M. and Y. W. will entertain a joint conference of the Collegiate Associations of Indiana Colleges.

STUDENT VOLUNTEER BAND

President Bertha Hardy
Secretary Treasie Hardy

All Christians find that by discussing their problems with those who have similar work and ideals, that the burdens become more simple and a deeper consecration is felt. This was the ideal which promoted the organization of the Student Volunteer Band at Indiana Central College.

During this year various phases of the work have been presented by the leaders of the State Volunteer organization of Indiana and especially by Mrs. J. Hal Smith of the United Brethren Church. The International Quadrennial Conference, which was held in Indianapolis, and the book, "Japan on the Upward Trail," which was studied in the weekly meetings, also added to the information and consecration of the Band. Several of the Student Volunteer members are student pastors, while others are conducting prayer meetings and social service work. Because of their devotion to everything that they consider highest and best and because of their willingness to answer the call to the "ends of the earth," the Student Volunteer Band holds a considerable place in the regard of all the students.

The debating teams hold an enviable position among the students in the Indiana League debates. The affirmative team met Valparaiso University team here, Feb. 29th, and won by a unanimous decision. They met North Manchester College at North Manchester, March 22, and were defeated by a score of 3 to 0.

The negative team met Franklin College at Franklin, March 7, and lost by a decision of 2 to 1. On March 22, they met Earlham here and decision was rendered 2 to 1 in favor of Earlham.

Our teams challenged the Otterbein college debating teams to a 24 hour debate for February 15th. We lost both debates.

In a meet with the teams of Oakland City College, the affirmative was defeated and the negative won.

OUR ALUMNI

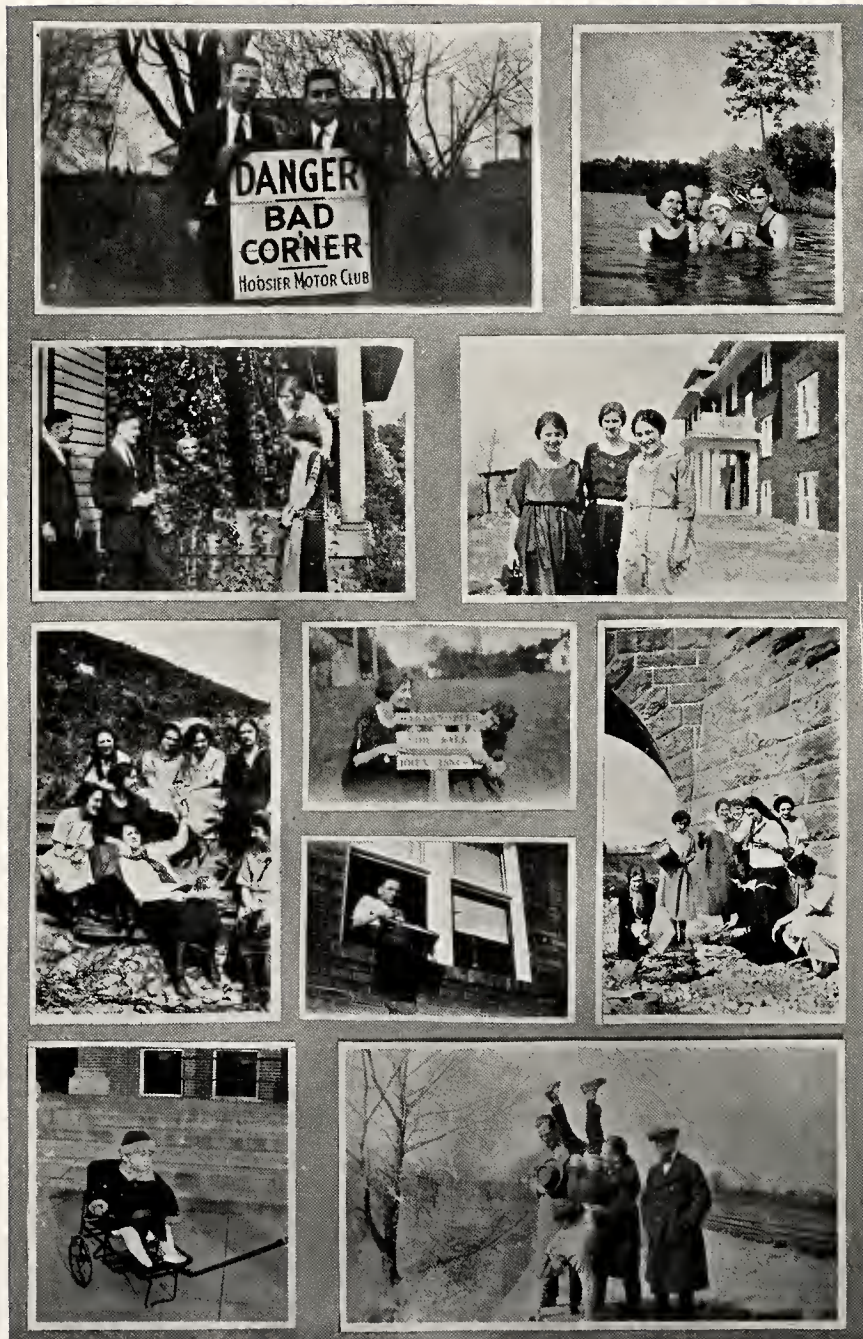

The Alumna Association of Indiana Central College was organized in 1910. The purpose of the organization is to maintain as close contact as possible between graduates of the college and their Alma Mater. Since the organization of the Association an annual business session and banquet have been held at the college during commencement week. The Association acts through an executive council composed of all elected officers and three resident appointed members.

In October, 1923, during the Indiana State Teachers' Association, many former students and graduates met with the students of the college at a banquet held in the college dining room.

After the diploma is awarded the college does not wish to sever connection with its students; graduation is only the beginning of a mutual relationship which results in benefits to the college and the alumni, without which an education is incomplete. The support of the latter is particularly essential to the College, and in return the College is interested in serving those graduated from its halls, because its achievement is measured by the character of its graduates.

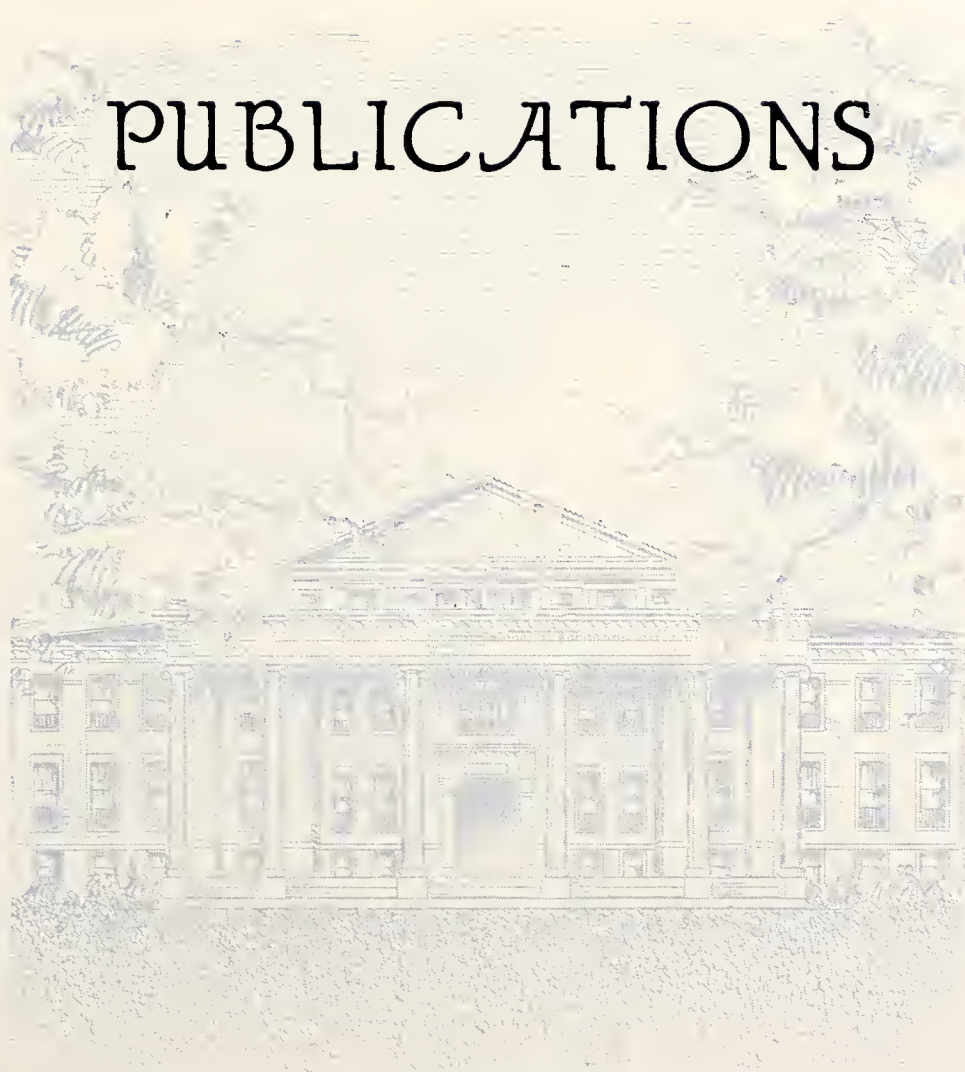

Any communication to the Alumna Association should be addressed to Miss Sibyl Weaver, Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, Indiana.

CANDIDATES CHOSEN FOR VARSITY DEBATES

FISHER, WEBER AND CHALFANT TO FIGHT SIDE BY SIDE.

Indiana Central has always stood behind her debating teams as squarely as she has stood behind her athletic teams. Due to this enthusiasm of the student body, possibly more than to any other cause, she has advanced to the state, holding her own with colleges much older and more widely known than herself. This year the interest has been and promises to continue to be as great as ever. There has been quite a bit of keen rivalry among the classes to secure places on the team.

The Freshmen came out strong with three representatives. They were them alternates. Frs. on the team, Stadler on the affirmative and Peyton a regular on the negative. However, those failing to place on the team need not feel discouraged. Prof. Herany's interest is so deep that he has organized a class for beginners. Come, there's your chance to win your place on the team if you have had no previous work.

To question for debate is to solve, that the Federal Government should enact legislation for the compulsory judicial settlement of disputes between employer and employee, in the coal and railroad industries (constitutionality waived).

The teams are: Negative—Fisher, Weber, Chalfant, Fry, Albright, Leach, Peyton, Mast, Stadler.

The Mammal are watching us. Home friends are interested. Let's give the teams our mightiest support. Let's make our college the Domesthenes of all colleges. Let's W-I-N! Three cheers for victory.

A. F. WILLIAMS GOES TO I. U.

A. F. Williams, one of the five wires among the Seniors, has completed the work on his A. B. degree and will begin work at once on an M. A. degree at Indiana University. This will make our fifth graduate doing post-graduate work at the state school this winter.

Several Seniors who are completing their work in the spring term will also enter Indiana University to do work on a Master of Arts degree.

INDIANA CENTRAL WALLOPS A.G.U. 17-21

NEVER HEADED—GAME IS ROUGH.

A. G. U. bumped up against a team that they hit the Cardinal and they are especially sweet as they owed the team from last year. Fast and rough from the start, they finally in the last few minutes of the first field goal of the game. A. G. U. tied the score, but a seemingly impossible throw followed quickly with the lead and they maintained it throughout the game.

The Central was ahead they broke up the game, breaking up the game, held a tight defense. Central was ahead they broke up the game, breaking up the game, held a tight defense. Central was ahead they broke up the game, breaking up the game, held a tight defense.

With an eleven point lead, they played an air-tight five-man defense, forcing A. G. U. to take long shots. Central, realizing that they were with defeat resorted to a desperate and substituted fresh men. All indication all men tried to get Albright and they succeeded fairly well. Four minutes to play A. G. U. rallied and sank five points, but the Central lead plus defense was too much for them.

The game ended with the visitors trailing 17 to 21 for Central. Albright and Briggs, best but Central, both being named. Captain Good entered the game at guard until field goal.

LeColler was named. Line-up and substitutes:

Albright LF Kittans
Bright C Briggs

Field Goals: Albright 5, Bright 2.

HILE AND BUTLER DELEGATES TO CONFERENCE OF STATE COLLEGE WRITERS.

The Intercollegiate Press Association of Indiana met on Friday and Saturday, December 10, to discuss the joining college newspapers into one organization for the coming year. Plans for the following year were discussed. Ralph Hile and Guy Bushong were elected to represent the Reflector.

They were guests of the Chi Alpha Fraternity during their stay. Friday evening delegates were privileged to hear the following prominent newspaper men: Lee, telegraph editor of the Indianapolis News; Joseph Meyers, editor of the same paper; Meyer, former city editor of the Star, at present in the business; and Thomas, sports and feature writer of the Indianapolis News.

A banquet at Lincoln Hotel on Friday morning in a round robin fashion a delegate from each college presented to the society something of difficulties confronting his publication. The Reflector of Indiana Central College, the Torch of Purdue University, and the Evansville College, were voted into the Association. The next meeting will be at Wabash College. Mr. Butler was elected president for the coming year.

In the afternoon the delegates attended the football game. Butler defeated De Pauw. An evening banquet was held in the Travlers of the Lincoln Hotel. The members of the Reflector were present. The editor of the Reflector, advertising manager, D. C. Proctor, and the journalistic editor of the Evansville College, war correspondent, president of the United Press from New York.

Mother: So you have been fighting. Why didn't you remember to turn the other cheek?
Willie: That's all well enough, but he hit me in the mouth.

Y. M. C. A. GOES STRONG IN FINANCE CAMPAIGN

TWO TEAMS MOBILIZE TO RAISE FUNDS FOR COMING YEAR.

November 25th, the Y. M. C. A. completed its plans for the conducting of a campaign to raise money to finance the organization for the coming year. The suggestion of A. F. Williams, treasurer, two teams were organized. One side and Ira Bright and H. H. C. Good and Alfred Emmert leading one side and Ira Bright and H. Turkey leading the other.

The next morning the Y. M. C. A. Indust was read to the students in chapel and its importance emphasized. The total amount of money asked for was one thousand dollars, while the calls for right hundred. Some of the items are as follows: Lake scholarship, $300; Lake student socials and $80; national and state local church, $30. Other items for obtaining speakers, conducting worthy causes, incidental items.

A scholarship is one being paid jointly by the men's and women's associations. Its benefits go to foreign students coming to this college with the intention of doing missionary work later in their home lands. Contributions reach $915 Mark.

The two teams in the competition with every effort to obtain subscriptions as possible. The closing of the time limit was on November 15th. The team headed by Harry Good, however, had five dollars more than their opponents at the expiration of the time limit, and won the supreme satisfaction of seeing their darling physiognomies appear upon the front page of this copy of the Reflector. The total pledges secured by both teams were nine hundred and forty-five dollars, but it is expected that the one thousand dollar mark will be reached yet by the addition of delayed pledges.

The members of the winning team were H. C. Good, A. L. Emmert, C. E. Leechy, Lynn Arbogast, D. D. Cori, Homer Roberts, B. H. Bishop, and L. D. Voss.

The losing team was composed of Ira Bright, C. B. Farley, H. H. Leechy, Paul Chalfant, E. J. Scholl, G. H. Fisher, C. W. Leader, and J. C. Stadler.

The success of this campaign augers well for the other activities of the Y. By the way, state officers training conference of the Y. M. C. A. 7

The Press Club is an organization composed of students who are connected with the publication of the college paper. Its membership includes the officers of the Reflector Staff, and those who meet the entrance requirements by contributing stipulated amounts of news, poetry, cartoons, or doing advertising or office work. The regular meetings are held once a month and are social in nature.

The purpose of the Press Club is the production of a better college paper. The existence of such a club, with a social function, makes the work of publishing a paper less of a drudgery and gives the journalists of the school a more material reward than only the feeling of work well done and duty performed. Further, it gives those interested in the Reflector opportunity to meet and discuss the paper's problems and to plan improvement. The requirements for maintaining membership are such as to make the matter of finding news and getting advertisements a minor problem.

Since the organization of the Press Club there has been a general renewal of interest in the Reflector, and a corresponding improvement.

At no time in the year does the excitement run higher than at the time when the Oracle makes its first appearance. In fact, it is equal to the enthusiasm after a basketball or debating victory. This great agitation might be the result of the very human pleasure at seeing our names and photographs in print, or, it might be inspired by curiosity. The editors of the Oracle, however, believe that this excitement is not prompted by such selfish reasons, but rather from a finer sense.

The students are proud of their organizations, of their college, and their friends. Some of the loveliest memories of an individual's life are of his four college years, and of the fast friendships that he has made. These memories are completed and retained by the photographers, and articles found in the annual. If these facts were not true and if the students did not have so much pride in the growth of Indiana Central, the staff of '24 would not have spent so many long hours to give the students the best in their power.

The staff is composed of both Juniors and Seniors. The editor-in-chief and the staff officers were chosen from the seniors, but the assistant editors are members of the Junior class. The latter will publish the 1925 Oracle and the assistant editors will in turn be selected from the new Juniors of '25.

The student body as well as the faculty and president have stood behind the Junior and Senior classes in a very commendable manner. Particular thanks are due Prof. Morgan, the faculty advisor, who has spent much time aiding and advising the editors.

For this fine co-operation and helpfulness of their friends, the Senior and Junior classes are much indebted and with pride present the 1924 Oracle.

Jokes

ooooo

A Scotchman woke up one morning to find that in the night his wife had passed away. He leaped from his bed and ran horror stricken into the hall. "Mary," he called downstairs to the general servant in the kitchen. "Come to the foot of the stairs, quick!"

"Yes, yes," she cried, "What is it?"

"Boil only one egg for breakfast this morning," he said.

Artist—Do you want your portrait done in oil?

Miss Bunnell—What do you think I am, a sardine?

"Pee Gee"—Do you catch cold easily?

"Bish"—Why, I catch cold if I trim my finger nails too close.

Dr. Long (in Bible class)—What book did President Good read from this morning in chapel?

Paul France—Out of the back of the song book.

Dr. Long (in Bible class)—Some of you people are so slow to respond that you put me in mind of the bear that was shot in the winter and didn't growl until Spring.

"It's the little things that tell," said the girl, as she dragged her kid brother from underneath the sofa.

Elizabeth Green—I wish I lived where the styles never changed.

Genevieve Rankin—Try the penitentiary.

Professor Blackburn—We'll play the march song next.

Donald Klinger—What! I played that piece the last time.

"Oh, my clothing store, my clothing store," shouted the distressed gentleman.

"What's the matter, bankrupt?" inquired the sympathetic bystander.

"Naw! I sat on a nail, and my clothing's tore—Oh, my clothing's tore."

Miss Brenton—The rich man has his twin six and the poor man has his six twins.

Ruth McCoy—How come?

Miss Brenton—Everything in this world is divided equally.

Long Boy—My boy, wuz George Washington as honest as dey sez he wuz?

Shorty—Ah tell you, nigger, George wuz de honestest man dat ever wuz born.

Long Boy—Den, how come dey close de banks on his birthday?

As the comb came along, the long hair on one side said to the short hair on the other side, "Goodbye, Shorty, the best of friends must part you know."

And Shorty replied, "So long, Old Man, see you again tonight after he goes to bed."

What are MEMORIES Worth?

NOT TODAY, but twenty years from today, will you realize the value of this—your school annual. As a book of memories of your school days it will take its place as your most precious possession in the years to come. You who are about to undertake the task of putting out next year's book should keep this thought in mind and employ only the engraver who will give you the most help in making your book a worthwhile book of memories and give you workmanship that you will be proud of even in years to come.

Write today to the Service Department of the Indianapolis Engraving Company and learn about their plans to help you make your book a memory book worth while.

Quality—Service—Price

QUALITY in an Annual cannot be compared in advance, like price, and is only appreciated after the book is completed. Your engraver is well qualified to recommend the various printers who produce high-grade work, as the engraver's skill is lost unless the printer is properly equipped and understands the niceties of halftone printing.

SERVICE comes next. We have made a careful study of the requirements of Annual printing, and this, together with our wide experience, enables us to offer you a service sufficient to relieve your staff of practically all detail.

PRICE should be the last consideration. Yet we have been able, through the benefit of our experience, to standardize and simplify manufacturing operations to such an extent that our high quality actually costs you less than an inferior job would cost elsewhere.

Jan. 6: Scholl and Weaver made their first appearance together.
Jan. 9: Rev. J. H. Nall of Portland spoke at chapel on "Why We Think." Mrs. Haramy told the Y. girls of her year in Jerusalem.
Jan. 10: Faculty moved to allow Literary societies to meet on Monday night. General rejoicing! ! Rebels return rejoicing.
Jan. 12: Boiled potatoes for dinner. How unusual.
Jan. 13: Sandwiches for supper.
Jan. 14: Potter and Engleman decided to take midnight lunch at the club. Results—loss of sleep(?)
Jan. 15: Joe Martin has come to "our house" to stay (M. I. Webber).
Jan. 17: High blood pressure and much anxiety—We've been reseated at the club.
Jan. 18: Our first grand pep session. Snake dance and everything.
Jan. 10: Booster Club entertained Manchester and I. C. C. teams after the game. Several mild flirtations.
Jan. 22: Ice is slippery. Ask Banks and Kirkham.
Jan. 23: Miss Sprague spoke in chapel in interest of Student Friendship Fund.
Jan. 24: "The Oracle" dedicated to Mrs. Fout and our friends of the Women's Auxiliary.
Jan. 26: Earlham beat us 30-12. Bushels of tears.
Jan. 29: Mr. Berman, Y. M. Secretary, of Chicago, spoke in chapel.
Jan. 30: The Freshman English Class recently displayed exceptional brilliancy. The brightest of these is Malone, who says that a sentence is a capital at the first, a period at the end.

FEBRUARY

- Feb. 1: Another month has begun. Rain and cooler.
Feb. 2: Ground hog saw his shadow. So did Mr. Howe. Look out for the next six weeks.
Feb. 4: Sessions of literary societies were shortened considerably by omitting extemporaneous speaking. Revival services are claiming a large part of the students' time.
Feb. 6: Dr. Oscar Williams spoke in chapel on Education in Indiana.
Feb. 8: Mr. Webber at the meat market: "Is your beef tender today?" "Sir," replied the sentimental butcher, "it is as tender as a woman's heart." "Give me a pound of sausage," ordered Mr. Webber hastily.

THE SPIRIT OF A BANK

It is a well recognized fact that the Spirit of a Bank—the motive which guides it in its dealings with customers—is the most effective Builder of Good Will possible for a bank to possess.

Not how much it can make out of a customer, but how much it can do for him, consistent with sound banking, is the spirit that runs through the daily relations of this Bank with its customers.

ooooo

- Feb. 11: Heard in the hall: "What is there on your new spring hat that makes you so proud of it?" "The eyes of all the other girls."
- Feb. 12: Short Lincoln Memorial service was given by Prof. Blackburn in chapel.
- Feb. 13: The faculty really have pep. You should have seen Prof. Eaton lead them in yelling. Dr. Stonecipher made a good song leader, too. Come again, faculty.
- Feb. 15: Victory over Manchester in basketball. But, oh! the defeat in the Otterbein debates!
- Feb. 16: We're feeling fine. Ask the basketball team about their trip to Huntington. A second "win"—our girls play with the Perry township teachers at Southport.
- Feb. 17: Another lovely day, but oh! so icy.
- Feb. 18: The wife of the Superintendent of Missions in China spoke in chapel.
- Feb. 19: "Jim Nasium" was seen looking for Geneva Taylor. He had lost one of his favorite dumbbells.
- Feb. 21: Meal tickets were sold in chapel for the benefit of the Student Friendship Fund. Some of the Freshmen tried to cash them at Long's Confectionery.
- Feb. 22: Ed Jackson, Secretary of State, delivered an address in chapel.
- Feb. 25: Blue Monday.
- Feb. 26: Oh! boy! What shall we do tomorrow?
- Feb. 27: Exams! Oh! the horrors of a student's life.
- Feb. 28: Next term we'll have to go to classes sick or well. It is best that we study the new rules which the faculty has adopted.
- Feb. 29: Did anyone see anyone carrying a traveling bag?

MARCH

- Mar. 1: Time, 12:30; place, home; menu, roast chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, noodles, celery, olives, butterscotch pie.
- Mar. 3: The faculty was certainly lenient in giving us an extra day.
- Mar. 4: Rain! Mud! New students and those who have been visiting trudged back to I. C. C.'s halls to register for the spring term.
- Mar. 5: Classes began at 7:30 a. m. The Profs. all realized that today was the first day of the term.
- Mar. 6: Edith Chalfant sent a note of sympathy to Butler students because of the death of their beloved Professor who was killed recently.
- Mar. 7: Debate with Valparaiso. We're in the seventh heaven now. The decision was 3-0 for us. Ask Irene Roberts concerning the whereabouts of the second speaker from Valpo.
- Mar. 9: Less than 500 at Sunday School.
- Mar. 10: Dr. Brewbaker and Roy Burkhart spoke in chapel. Come again.
- Mar. 11: "Are you a Good Sport?" Ask any girl who attended Y. W. this evening.
- Mar. 12: George Fisher wore an extra smile to chapel. The mail just arrived.
- Mar. 13: Liebenstein—"Now if you were in my shoes, what would you do?" Swarens—"Groan with agony."
- Mar. 14: The Christian Endeavor gave a St. Patrick's social. Features of the evening were a continuous story and a debate, "Resolved, that bobbed hair lowers the morale of college girls." Even though the subject was depressing, affairs were enlivened by the appearance of shamrock brick ice cream and cakes with shamrock favors.
- Mar. 15: Menu for dinner: Wieners, sauer kraut, potatoes boiled in salt water, and loganberries.
- Mar. 17: St. Patrick's Day. Green and yellow flashes were seen all over the campus.
- Mar. 19:
Snively—Say, Fisher, a fortune teller said you were going to Florida.
Fisher—I'll go around at once and see that fortune teller.
Snively—What for?
Fisher—She may be able to tell me where to get the money.
- Mar. 21: Snively took Geneva Taylor home at 2:30 a. m. He is now suffering from a severe cold as a result of getting his feet wet.
- Mar. 22: Girls' Glee Club gave a concert.
- Mar. 23: Too rainy for strollers.
- Mar. 24: Philalethea—Geneva Taylor spoke on the subject, "Whom Shall I Take."
- Mar. 25: Lettermen form Varsity C Association.
Dentist—You say this tooth hasn't been filled before? I see gold in my instrument?
Mendenhall—You must have struck my back collar button.

- Mar. 26: Prof. Eaton today went into the office before going to town to call his wife in order to ask her if he should wear his rubbers. While he was talking on the telephone, Mrs. Dorsett came into the office and set a Boston bag on the table. When Prof. had finished talking he picked up the bag and started to town. After walking several blocks down the street he realized what he was carrying and returned it to the owner.
- Mar. 27: Recital of Boys' Glee Club. Bushong announced at dinner: "All girls please go to Prof. Holiman's room before two o'clock today."
Jo Albin: "Did he say 'compounded' room?"
Ellis Scholl: "You mean 'confounded' room."
- Mar. 28-29: State Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Cabinet conference. We're all busy entertaining the visitors.
- Mar. 31: Soph.—That movie we saw of "Oliver Twist" was good, eh?
Freshie—Yes. Say, wouldn't that make some book?

APRIL

- April 1: All Fool's Day. The college girls entertained the college men with a delightful party in Residence Hall.
- April 2: A banquet was given in honor of the debating and basketball teams. The program was quite interesting. So was the chicken.
- April 3: We have a street light near the dormitory at last.
- April 4: Band concert. We have been quite proud of our band this year. What would basket ball games and debates have been without them?
- April 5: An interesting play was given by First U. B. Church of Indianapolis for the benefit of "The Oracle."
- April 6: 9:45 p. m.

- Ramon Hunt—Artists say that five feet is the divine height for women, sweetest!
Charlotte—Oh, but I'm five feet one inch!
Ramon—Oh, but you're more than divine!
- April 8: Y. W. C. A. led by Mrs. Fout on the topic "Social Errors I Have Known."
April 11: A new disease has appeared. It is commonly known as spring fever. The only cure for the disease has been discovered by Bishop who advises that anyone suffering from it should take a review of campuistry.
April 12: The public speaking and music departments gave an indoor chautauqua. We predict for some of these amateurs a successful future.
April 14: Philomusean Literary Society held an open session in its hall.
April 15: After Mr. O. H. Worley gave us the interesting talk in chapel on the production of a college annual, the students all see the vast importance of snap shots and have decided to utilize the remainder of the bright days for the taking of pictures.
April 17: We have already noticed good results from the "C" Club which was formed about three weeks ago. The members are exerting an influence that is quite promising.
April 18: The Freshman class gave a very entertaining play.
April 19: Graduate public speaking recital of Edith Chalfant and Leora Weimer.
April 21: Blue Monday. Rain. Somewhat cooler.
April 23: Continued attacks of spring fever among students.
April 26: Sophomore hay ride. We wonder! ! !
April 28: New Student—Have you any mail for me?
Hunt—What's your name?
New Student—You'll probably find it on the envelope.
April 30: Cooler. Snow probably by tomorrow.
April 30: Junior-Senior Banquet.

MAY

- May 1: The Oracle: Behold! I have arrived!
May 2: Junior Academy play.
May 3: Y. W. C. A. May morning breakfast. Entertainment given by public speaking department.
May 6: Scholl—They tell me you made a very clever remark last night.
Stadler—Yes; but it's awfully discouraging.
Scholl—What is?
Stadler—Why, the way everybody is talking about it.
May 8: Annual banquet, Theacalossian and Zetaganthean literary societies.
May 9: Senior-Academy class play.
May 10: Junior music recital, given by Miss Myrtle Banks.
May 12: Exams. are coming; we must get busy.
May 15: Examinations at hand. There must be no trifling now.
May 16: Commencement open session of Philalethean literary society.

Treasie Hardy, the eminent philosopher, inquires why it is that, if we are made of dust, we don't get muddy when we take a drink?

Georgia Mann—You looked so absent-minded when I spoke to you this morning.

Bertha Hardy—I was probably all wrapped up in thought.

Georgia—It's a wonder you didn't take cold.

She—What makes you think Jones is tired of his wife?

He—The sign in front of his house says, "HONEY FOR SALE."

Mrs. Washburn—That young man that you are engaged to is a bad egg.

Mildred—I know he is, that's the reason that I'm afraid to drop him.

"Henry, Henry, the hen swallowed a cookbook yesterday, and this morning she laid a fried egg."

"Good," wearily replied the tired author, "Feed her a dictionary and bring her in."

Vesta Rickert—Yes, I learned to play entirely by ear.

Josephine Albion—Haven't you ever had the earache?

TWENTY YEARS FROM NOW

You will want good sight twenty years from now. But if you are going to have it you must not neglect your eyes now.

If your eyes pain, don't put off attending to them. Have them examined at once.

If you need glasses we will prescribe the correct lenses to relieve your eye trouble.

If you do not need them we will tell you so.
